

a) Clearing r bit but not m bit leads to class 1s.
To prevent this we replace class 1 with class 3.

b) Memory compaction as its name refers making memory allocation more compact by organizing allocated and non-allocated areas of memory together. The problem here is that it requires high CPU processing. But it solves fragmentation problems.

c)

4096

page size =  $\sqrt{2 \text{ pages}}$